

BRADFIELD COLLEGE

International Briefing

Bradfield College seeks opportunities to partner with like-minded organisations for international school establishment, branding and improvement.

The Bradfield College Group provides an all-round education to over 1100 girls and boys aged 3 – 18, of which over 700 board in our senior school. Our aim is to provide an Education for Life, by which we mean enabling young people to flourish personally and professionally throughout the whole of their lives, not just for the years at school.

We shape the all-round development of all our students, whatever their ability, through outstanding pastoral care, so each individual undertakes their own educational journey within a safe and supportive environment. There is One Bradfield, but Many Bradfieldians.

Why partner with Bradfield?

Quite simply for our expertise and capability, built since 1850

- Experts in holistic education: we successfully deliver a wide-ranging curriculum (GCSE, A level, IB Diploma) together with a full programme of activities (sports, creative arts, clubs) to students of varied abilities and interests;
- Experts in nurturing elite performance: we have alumni at Stanford, Oxford, Cambridge, drama schools, conservatoires and art schools. We are recent national champions in football, hockey, cricket, shooting and tennis;
- Experts in pastoral care: we know what young people need to help them navigate their world successfully, now and for the future;
- Experts in innovative teaching: we use research and technology creatively to support curriculum design, teaching and student learning;
- Experts in special educational needs provision: we know each individual student and guide their progress whatever their needs;
- Experts in staff development: we provide extensive continued professional training for all teachers whatever their experience.

“Bradfield College parents remain powerful advocates of the College’s balanced, well-rounded and holistic education, which is underpinned by very strong pastoral and extra-curricular provision.” Independent RSAcademics parent survey, 2022.

“There is so much that the school does brilliantly. It’s hard to convey this fully through this questionnaire. Thank you.”

Independent RSA Parent Survey, 2022
